WHAT ARE COOKIES AND HOW ARE THEY USED

Cookies are small pieces of text sent to your browser when you visit a site. They serve a variety of functions, such as enabling us to store certain information that you provide to us as you navigate between pages on the website.

Your web browser stores cookies on your device's hard-drive for record-keeping purposes and in some instances, to enable the tracking of information through third-party services such as Google analytics. You may choose to set your web browser to refuse cookies, or to alert you when cookies are being sent. The help menu on most browsers will tell you how to prevent your browser from accepting new cookies, how to have the browser notify you when you receive a new cookie, and how to disable cookies altogether. You can also disable or delete cookies you have previously accepted, if you wish to do so.

We use cookies for the following purposes:

- We use cookies to operate our website with optimized performance.
- We use Google Analytics to help us measure traffic to our website as a means to understand how visitors access and use it. For this purpose, Google will collect some personal information through our website.
- We may use third-party publishers, advertising networks, or service providers to manage our ads on other sites. Our third-party partners may store cookies on your device or browser to gather information about your use of those services and other sites you visit in order to provide you with Vincent & Scales advertisements.
